DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 16-17 and 20-21, drawn to compounds of formula I and compositions comprising the same.

Group II, claim(s) 18-19 and 22-23, drawn to compounds of formula II and compositions comprising the same.

Group III, claim(s) 24-25, 28-29, 32-33 and 36-37, drawn to a method of using compounds of formula I and compositions comprising the same.

Group IV, claim(s) 26-27, 30-31, 34-35 and 38-39, drawn to a method of using compounds of formula II and compositions comprising the same.

Art Unit: 1621

The inventions listed as Groups I, II III and IV do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Groups I and II are compounds of materially different formulas. The said formulas do not contain a common technical feature.

Groups III and IV are methods of using the compounds of groups I and II, respectively. The special technical features are the compounds and compositions that are used for the claimed treatment method. The compounds of I and II lack the same or corresponding technical feature. Methods of using said compounds are therefore also lacking unity of invention since there is no common special technical feature between groups III and IV.

Groups I and III are compounds and composition of formula I and a method of using the same. The common technical feature is the compound of formula I. However, the said feature fails to meet the requirement of a special technical feature that makes over the prior art. Cinnamic acid is a well known compound that is of formula I. Since Cinnamic acid is well known, the technical feature that links groups I and III does not make over the prior art and the separation of the two inventions is proper.

Groups II and IV are compounds and composition of formula II and a method of using the same. The common technical feature is the compound of formula II. However, the said feature fails to meet the requirement of a special technical feature that makes over the prior art. The compound of formula II is known (see Rolland et al.

Tetrahedron Letters 2001, 42, p7563-7566, compound 3a on p7564). Groups II and IV therefore lack a special technical feature that makes over the prior art.

Notice of potential rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

A telephone call was made to Darla Yoerg on 2/7/07 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
